The name itself binds us to this territory, as Alges is a contraction of Albagès, the name of the village where the vineyard is located.

Extreme climatic conditions and low yields are reflected on Alges, a wine with a deep and intense color which displays powerful aromas of ripe fruit and elegant oak notes.

On the palate is concentrated, structured and plenty of character. It has a remarkable bouquet with red fruit jam, liquorice and spicy notes over a mineral background. Its finish is lingering, rich and silky. Truly gourmand.
